The Pentecostal Church of the Nazarenes

The Nazarene Church has been holding its Annual Conference in Claresholm during the past week, and will continue up to the 29th inst. A large tent has been erected and meetings are being held daily. Delegates from various parts of the province are present, and the reports of the progress of the Church are very encouraging.

The Nazarene Church came into existence about seven years ago in the United States. It was formed by the union of a number of independent movements whose aims and methods of worship were found alike. It now has 60 churches, 40,000 communicants, and missions on every continent. In Alberta the movement has been developing during the last four years, and it now has ten preachers and several large well-organized circuits.

Present at the Conference is Rev. Dr. Reynolds, of Kansas City, the General Superintendent of the Church and Missionary secretary. His addresses are full of interest, and show that the Nazarene Church is alive to the great questions that effect the world today.

"The Old Time Religion," which the Church claims to teach, does, we presume, indicate that the Church does not recognize a possibility of new light being thrown upon the old doctrines and new interpretations being legitimately put upon them. The slogan "The Old Time Religion," as we suppose, is introduced to counter the fact that the Church puts in first place the fundamental doctrines of the New Testament—faith, repentance, and holiness. In this it is perfectly right for the fundamental doctrines of Christianity change not; but to its insistence on the old view of life and to ignore the new interpretations and adaptations of Christianity would be a folly that no intelligent Church would be guilty of.

The Nazarene Church is aggressive, always on the offensive, never ashamed of its teachings, and firmly convinced that it has something the world needs. If you want to know more about this movement pay a visit to the big tent in Claresholm. It will do you no harm and it may do you a lot of good.

The Harris-Brown Wedding

At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brown, Gresham, three couples were very merry on Wednesday afternoon, July 18th, when Rev. W. E. MacNiven, of Claresholm, united in matrimony Miss Alice A. Brown to Mr. Harry Harris, of Kelowna, Alberta. Only the immediate friends of the two families were present, making a merry gathering of about 25. The bride was given away by her father, and was dressed in a white embroidered veil, and carried a shower bouquet. She was attended by her sister, Miss Phoebe Brown, dressed in a pale blue dress of silk crepe, and carrying a bouquet of sweet peas and fern. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Allan Harris.

The Wedding March was played by Miss Patterson, of Kelowna, an old school friend of the bride.

After the last song, the wedding party partook of a very dainty buffet luncheon, after which the bride and groom left by motor for the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris are both graduates of the Claresholm Agricultural College, and are very highly thought of by a wide circle of friends, who wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Private Gardiner Home

Private Gardiner arrived home from England on Monday night on the 10:30 train. Having had some trouble with his knee he was given leave of absence for a few hours. He will be treated at one of the hospitals. The town band and hearty cheers from hundreds of citizens greeted him as he stepped from the train.

A Soldiers' Experience at Vinny Ridge

The following letter was received last week by Mrs. Ed. V. Chambers, from her son Ted, who is at present in the Ontario Military Hospital, Orpington, Kent, recovering from a shrapnel wound in his ankle, and giving his personal experience in the battle of Vinny Ridge. Evidently the individual soldier is fairly lost in the magnitude of the operations, and he only sees what goes on near him—and not much of that. The taking of Vinny Ridge cost the British 100,000 in casualties.

Ontario Military Hospital, June 18, 1917.
Dear Father and Mother—I have received about a dozen letters from you during the past week, including one containing a remittance, which I was very glad to receive, because we only get £1 a week while in hospital, and that does not go very far.

We have had lovely weather here this spring, but it is clouding up now and looks like rain, but the farmers need it alright. Everybody is busy picking strawberries or putting up bay berries.

Say, it would do you good to see the roses and flowers here. If they can't do anything else in this country they can grow the loveliest flowers I have ever seen.

Now, I am going to try and answer some of your questions about myself. Of course we knew we were going to take the Ridge long before we went over, but we were not told when. About two days before the change a heavy bombardment was opened, never stopped day or night. Every two or three days a false barrage was opened. That means that thousands of guns, for miles along the line, would open fire at once on the enemy's trenches. (Administered as a tonic for Fritz's jumpers' nerves). This would last for about ten minutes, and then would fall back to the steady bombardment again.

Of course, Fritz didn't take all that lead without returning something. Believe me, a man's life wasn't worth much, and while this was going on we had to go out on No man's land every night and dig our jumping off trenches, besides carrying extra stored bombs, etc.

Well, The night came at last, when we had to go to our own trenches and wait till daylight to advance. (In the meantime it had rained and the trenches were full of mud, soft mud). But about 11 o'clock my officer (poor devil was killed the next morning), ordered me to take a small party of men and crawl out to Fritz's barbed wire and cut any that had been missed by our shell fire so I was busy all night and able to keep warm.

It was just breaking day (April 10) 5:28, when the machine guns opened up, and two minutes later, the big guns started. The whole sky was greyed. Then came the order "Up; give them hell, boys!" and we were over. I saw our officer drop along with some of the other boys, and then I felt a sting in my foot somewhere and dropped like a log and everything had to go round. But a German threw a bomb within a couple of yards of me and that brought me to my senses and I got up and went forward with my comrades. We were so busy for the next hour or two that I forgot my foot, but along about 2 o'clock in the afternoon it got so painful and stiff that I thought I had better get out while I was able to get away (300 yds. back), and got my foot dressed. But my troubles were not over yet for I had to walk about two miles further back before we could be picked up by the lorries. But a couple of other boys who were wounded as (in the arms), helped me along. We got in about 10 o'clock that night to the field ambulance, where they dressed our wounds again, gave us some cocoa and bread and jam, the first we had had to eat since the night before. We had some hard luck and only had in our haversacks, but we were too excited to eat it, and it was wasted. But we were very hungry. From there we were taken to the C.C. 8, and next morning to Boulogne by train, and four days after to dear old

War Veteran Home

A large crowd awaited the arrival of the 10:30 train from Calgary, last Monday, to welcome home Private T. Booth. The band played and three bugling choruses greeted the veterans as he stepped from the train.

Private Booth left here in April, 1916, and was in the trenches in August of last year. On Sept. 26th, when going in with his battalion to relieve the front line men, he was struck by shrapnel. Ten of the company were wounded and three killed at the same time. After being taken to the hospital, gas gangrene set in, which made it necessary to amputate his left arm. Before returning to Canada he spent a few months at his home in Yorkshire.

Private Booth intends to take a ranch later on, preferring outdoor life to office work.

Didn't Give Bill a Chance

Staveland had a sports day last Friday afternoon, with a ball game, races, and the riding of a bad horse by Bill Minor. This mare had never been ridden and the rider of the Standard thought she could not ride; but Minor and she did not give him a chance to show what he could do. Stanton News.

What a "brave" Bill should have said that he didn't give the mare a chance to show what she could do.

"Damn 'Em," Says Billy

Billy Sunday, the evangelist, doesn't believe in temporizing with the unspeakable Hun. He theology sounds very Old Testamentary indeed. BY-LAW CARRIED

The result of the voting on By-law No. 123 was very gratifying. The ballot showed 90 in favor with 24 against. We believe that it will prove to be of great benefit to the town, and that in the near future we shall see improvements that could never have taken place under the old conditions. Those who voted and worked against it were, no doubt, just as sincere in their convictions as those who voted for it. We know any man who will stand with a minority that represents his convictions, rather than the mass who always goes with the crowd. We believe that law has been supported by a majority of the ratepayers, that one and all will be loyal enough to the interests of the town to cooperate with the engineers in their efforts to make Claresholm a bigger and a better town.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The latest report of the wheat crop in the United States is that it is far below the average, although slightly better than last year's crop. The crop is good, and efforts are being made to induce people to use more corn meal and thus effect a saving in wheat, which is so badly needed for the allies in Europe.

There should be no strikes during war time. The strike agitator should be arrested as a traitor to his country. There is danger of a strike among the metal miners in the Lake Superior district. Surely, in war time, Canada has a right to expect the patriotic cooperation of every citizen.

The brewery operated by the Bowls Brewing Co. in Brockville, Ont., is being turned into a milk condensing plant capable of turning out 75 tons of milk daily. The farmers and dairy-men in St. Thomas have been similarly treated. It is probable that in these new concerns as were employed in the makings of beer and that the weekly pay envelope will be fully as large. Besides, the money invested in manufacturing good condensed milk will bring a larger return in profit, happiness and prosperity than a similar sum invested in making beer. Who said "prohibition kills business"?

Old Glory in Europe

Its stripes of white have ever been the emblem of purity of purpose and honesty of motive. Its lines of red and blue have ever beckoned the rising sun of civilization and, figuratively, have illumined the path towards democracy, liberty and justice. Its starry field of blue always has been true in the prediction that there "will dawn another and better day following each season of night and gloom. Collectively the red, the white and blue always have been emblems of Friendship, Charity, Equity and Righteousness. The colors of Old Glory never run, and may we never run from its benign influence. Crop Report

"Rain wanted" is the gist of the Farmers' Co-operative crop report for the week. The southern portion of the province appears to be suffering from lack of moisture more than the north. Though there have been many hailstorms sweeping across the province the percentage of loss is low and all points that have received moisture report good prospects for a large yield. The straw will be short this year all over Alberta.

There have been no reports filed of damage from rust or smut to the crops, but the province as a whole could stand some heavy rains.

Purple Springs—Prospects for a crop this season are very poor. A very slight shower on Thursday evening, Grain heading out fast, but not filling and will not unless we get rain soon. Prospects not more than 20 bushels to acre.

Granum—Very warm; crop conditions greatly improved. Some hail, but damage light.

Rumsey—Wheat almost all headed out, but will be short as also will be the crop on account of dry weather.

Lomond—A good rain has insured a good crop. This rain is reported to have penetrated the ground 8 inches, both wheat and oats are in fine condition.

Burdette—Have had some rain, need more. Unusual favorable conditions yielded will be normal.

Olds—Very warm with some hail. Garden stuff damaged, but crop damage not serious.

Delbourne—Weather warm, with some good showers. Wheat about 90 per cent headed out; stand will not be so large as last year, but good yield expected.

Didsbury-Sedgewick—Very heavy wind and rainstorm Wednesday; hail in some places; damage 10 per cent to 30 per cent. Weather very hot.

Alderside—Wheat and barley heading out; straw in most cases will be short. Need more rain. Hail damage in east district 10 per cent.

Machod—No rain for 12 days; crops all suffering. Grain in breaking and summer fallow standing drought well, but crops on stubble and spring break very short. If no rain for another week will be almost total loss. Late-sown crops very backward.

Claresholm—Hot dry weather, but crops doing well and nearly all headed out. Some damage by hail West and South of town.

Resolutions to Which All Loyal Canadians Will Subscribe

Ottawa, July 17.—At the conclusion of the meeting of the Liberals who supported the military service act, at noon today, the following resolution was adopted and given out for publication:

"(1)—That Canada's part in the war must continue to absorb the best energies of the country till a full and complete victory of the Allies is achieved. This view is especially dear to all Liberals who from time immemorial have fought for the national and self-governing rights of the small people. Canada's own future safety is absolutely involved in such a fight."

"(2)—That we record our unbounded admiration of, and our undischargeable debt to, the 40,000 gallant Canadian soldiers and nurses who have offered and in many other cases given their lives for the world's freedom."

"(3)—That we express our appreciation of the splendid patriotic gifts and services by which our people at home, men, women and children, have done their utmost to emulate the example of their sons and brothers in the trenches.

"(4)—That we endorse all necessary steps to secure the required number of men to fill the gaps in the Canadian ranks without delay, as any thing short of this amounts to betrayal of the living and the dead."

"(5)—That the organization of the manpower of the country must be accompanied by an immediate alteration of our system of taxation to meet war time conditions which will ensure that those who do not fight will pay, and pay in proportion to their ability as has been done in the motherland, in other British dominions, in the United States and in other allied countries."

"(6)—That immediate steps be taken to eradicate profiteering whether in foodstuffs, munitions of other commodities."

Ten Rules for Foretelling the Weather

1 When the temperature falls suddenly, there is a storm forming south of you.

2 When the temperature rises suddenly there is a storm forming north of you.

3 The wind blows from a region of fair weather toward a region where a storm is forming or is in progress.

4 Cirrus clouds move from a region where a storm is in progress toward a region of fair weather.

5 Cumulus clouds move from a region where a storm is forming.

6 When cirrus clouds are moving rapidly from the north or northeast, there will be rain within 24 hours, no matter how cold it is.

7 When cirrus clouds are moving rapidly from the south or southeast, there probably will be a cold rain-storm on the morrow, if it be in the summer, or a snowstorm if it be in the winter.

8 The wind blows in a circle round a storm. When it blows from the north, the heaviest rain is in the east of you; when it blows from the south, the heaviest rain is west of you; when it blows from the east, the heaviest rain is south of you.

9 The wind does not blow unless rain or snow is falling within 1,000 miles of you.

10 Heavy white frost is evidence that a storm is forming within 100 miles north or northeast of you.

British gunboats, during the past week, have sunk four, captured four, and driven three other German merchant ships ashore.

PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

Saving Certificates

The Deputy Provincial Treasurer, Edmonton, reports that Provincial Saving Certificates are meeting with a splendid reception from the public. Under this plan one may deposit his Savings and be sure of receiving a good interest rate with the solid security of the Government behind it. There has been a steady flow of deposits into the Provincial Treasury, the amounts received from individual investors varying from $5.00 to sums representing a modest fortune. The average daily receipts continue to increase in amount as time goes on, evidencing the growing popularity of the idea. As the Saving Certificates Act was intended primarily for the benefit of residents of the Province of Alberta, deposits from outside the Province were hardly looked for, but considerable sums have been received from neighboring Provinces. The advantage of obtaining 5 per cent and of being able to withdraw the deposit on demand without incurring any unnecessary formality naturally appeals to investors, especially when interest is allowed for the full time the money remains on deposit, however short it may be. Another attractive feature is the option of having interest compounded half-yearly, or if preferred, of having it forwarded yearly or half-yearly.
